This is what we do

“In Brevard County, the cycle of domestic violence ends where hope, education and community begin. Driven by a mission to empower survivors, prevent abuse before it starts, and create lasting social change, we work every day to build a safer, stronger future for all.”

-Beverly DeMeyer, President/CEO

This is how we do it

(Fiscal year 24-25)

Looking ahead

The development of the Nadene Cavaliere Center – A Beacon of Hope, Help, and Healing Outreach Center will provide Serene Harbor with a growing opportunity to reach additional community members expanding vital programs and services from anywhere in the Brevard County area.

The Nadene Cavaliere Center will provide Serene Harbor with a new Outreach and Administrative office that will provide more opportunities for survivors to connect with an advocate and gain access to vital programs and services available.

“Every survivor deserves more than safety — they deserve a future.”
